DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because an extraneous word "comprises". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 3. Claims 1-3, 5–8,10-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bulgajewski et al (6,426,485).

Bulgajewski teaches a vehicular electrochromic mirror assembly 10 which is inherently a dimming device (col. 5, lines 1-17) comprising a base 12 (Fig. 1) adapted to be mounted to a vehicle 14, a reflective element carrier 16, a reflective element 21 (col. 5, lines 18-26) and a supportive member 52, and a power distributor through terminals 66 and 68 (Fig. 1-2) connected to a plurality of functional elements such as a heater 50 comprising an array of conductive elements 74-75 and a light source 36. Further, Bulgajewski teaches the power distributor comprising a planar member 66 or 68, and a first power lead 66 connected to the heating element 50

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 5. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bulgajewski in view of Fuerst et al (6,247,823).

Bulgajewski discloses substantially the claimed invention but does not disclose a ribbon cable.

Fuerst teaches a vehicular mirror 1 comprising a base 3 (Fig. 1) adapted to be mounted to a vehicle, a reflective element carrier and a reflective element (col. 1, lines 25-38), and a power distributor 14 of ribbon cable type connected to a plurality of functional elements 9,19, 20, 29, 30 and 31.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify

Bulgajewski's invention to include a ribbon cable as taught by Fuerst in order to provide a compact and safety mirror assembly.

6. Claims 9 and 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bulgajewski.

Fbulgajewski discloses substantially the claimed invention including a turn signal (col. 5, lines 35-52) and a second power lead 68, but does not disclose that the signal abuts the reflective element. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify Bulgajewski's invention to make the turn signal to abut the reflective element 21 and interconnect it with the second power lead 68 as a design choice that would have been determined by the user having a desired result in mind.

7. Claims 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bulgajewski in view of Lynam et al (5,808,777).

Bulgajewski discloses substantially the claimed invention including the electrochromic-dimming device, but does not disclose a third power lead. Lynam discloses electrochromic element 10' having power leads 54. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify Bulgajewski's invention to make the third power lead as taught by Lynam and interconnect it with the dimming device in order to securely operate the dimming device.
